

Learn

for the love of it!

Are you 55 or older, with a curious mind and a keen interest in learning—just for the love of it? You are invited to join more than 900 like-minded Portland-area older learners who are members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Southern Maine.

As a member of Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, known as OLLI, you'll choose from among an extensive array of courses in the liberal arts and sciences. The courses are peer taught, there are no entrance requirements, no grades or tests. It's your experience and your love of learning that count; no college background is needed.

OLLI is part of the statewide Maine Senior College Network that provides intellectually stimulating learning opportunities and special activities for persons 55 years of age or older in a University environment. To find a Senior College near you, log onto www.maineseniorcollege.org.
