

Banner: A Descriptive Title

Your Name & Affiliation, Your Co-author's Names & Affiliations, Your Mentor's Name & Affiliation

Abstract

(can be updated from what you submitted)

Introduction or Background

Tell the reader what they need to know to put your study in context.

Hypothesis/Question/Objective

Highlight using bullets, bolded font, etc.

Methods

•This is a good section to use bullets rather than paragraphs.

Figure 1. Descriptive Caption

Figure 2. Descriptive Caption

Figure 3. Descriptive Caption

Results

Make sure you refer to figures in your text (Figure 1). Give only general patterns, highlighting what your figures show.

Discussion/Conclusions/Next Steps

- How does your work compare with published literature?
- What is the significance of your findings?
- Make sure you have answered the Hypothesis/Questions/Objective you outlined earlier.

Acknowledgements

Remember to thank your classmates, mentors other professors who contributed or supported your work. Mention any grants or fellowship that supported your work. This can also be in a smaller font.

References

These can be in smaller font, for those who are interested.

Banner: A Descriptive Title

Your Name & Affiliation, Your Co-author's Names & Affiliations, Your Mentor's Name & Affiliation

Abstract

(can be updated from what you submitted)

Introduction or Background

Tell the reader what they need to know to put your study in context.

Hypothesis/Question/Objective

Highlight using bullets, bolded font, etc.

Methods

•This is a good section to use bullets rather than paragraphs.

Descriptive Caption

Descriptive Caption

Descriptive Caption

Results

Make sure you refer to figures in your text (Figure 1). Give only general patterns, highlighting what your figures show.

Discussion/Conclusions/Next Steps

- How does your work compare with published literature?
- What is the significance of your findings?
- Make sure you have answered the Hypothesis/Questions/Objective you outlined earlier.

Acknowledgements

Remember to thank your classmates, mentors other professors who contributed or supported your work. Mention any grants or fellowship that supported your work. This can also be in a smaller font.

References

These can be in smaller font, for those who are interested.