

Articulation Agreement between Central Maine Community College
and
University of Southern Maine's Lewiston-Auburn College

Effective Date: March 31, 2016

To support the transfer of students in the spirit of collaboration, Central Maine Community College (CMCC), Auburn, Maine, and University of Southern Maine (USM-LAC), Lewiston, Maine, hereby enter into the following articulation agreements between

CMCC's Associate in Applied Sciences Degree in Human Services
and
USM-LAC's Bachelor of Arts Degree in Social and Behavioral Sciences

USM-LAC agrees to accept course credits earned with a grade of C or better at CMCC in the attached check sheets and apply them as appropriate to USM-LAC degree requirements for CMCC students who are accepted to and are enrolled in relevant USM-LAC degree programs and who have completed the Associate's degree indicated. USM-LAC academic residency requirements still apply.

Both institutions will make this information readily accessible and available to all interested parties, including but not limited to: students/potential students, relevant staff, advisors, faculty members, program chairpersons, and college/university deans.

This agreement is effective for CMCC students beginning in USM-LAC degree programs in the Fall 2016 semester, and may be amended, extended and/or updated by mutual agreement on a year-to-year basis. Both institutions agree to discuss curricular changes on an annual basis for the upcoming year and to make any resulting adjustments to this agreement.

Note A: Several classes that fulfill the core categories are also required by the major and can be used to meet both requirements.

- ANT 101 Anthropology: The Cultural View meets the SCA core requirement as well as a requirement of the major.
- SBS/HRD 200 Multicultural Growth and Development also meets the SCA core requirement.
- ANT 101 also meets the DIV and INT core requirements, but can only be applied to one of these two. Other required SBS courses also fulfill these core requirements, and additional 'double-dips' are listed below.

Note B: SBS prerequisite SOC 100 is waived for CMCC HUS AA students because they take 3 SOC courses for the AA.

Note C: The final semester HUS elective may be able to fit into another category depending on what students choose to take. No additional courses can be imported as SBS electives, however, in order to allow students room to benefit from upper division SBS content.

Note D: The USM core Diversity requirement is met by multiple courses in the HUS and SBS degrees, including CMCC's PSY 202, SBS 300 Deviance and Social Control, and ANT 101 from both institutions.

Note E: Students can count Practicum I or II as meeting the LAC 447 Internship requirement of the SBS major. Practicum I is inserted there, and Practicum II counted as a general elective, for convenience.

- IMPORTANT: If the student is changing fields or settings, an additional internship may be very much to their benefit!! This should be determined jointly with their advisor. In that case, Practicum I would instead be counted as a general elective.

Note F: CMCC's MAT 135 meets both the USM core Quantitative Reasoning requirement, and the requirement of the major.

Note G: CMCC's COM 100 fulfills the USM Core CE requirement, as do various other CMCC courses as per USM transfer equivalencies.

Note H: LCC 370 Toward a Global Ethics meets both EISRC and major requirements. LCC 370 additionally meets the INT core requirement.

Note I: The Thematic Cluster requirement is met by any three courses outside of the major at the USM 200-level or above.

- PSY 204 can count for the Professional Practices Cluster OR as a general elective. PSY 212 can count for the Health and Wellness cluster OR as a general elective. Students may select a different Thematic Cluster if they wish.
- A course in government or civics (such as LCC 220 U.S. Democracy: Origins and Development) is recommended as an elective for students interested in careers in advocacy. One aim of the SBS degree is to build understanding of social policies and government processes critical to advocating effectively for one's clients, profession, etc., as reflected in the SBS 430 Applied Social Policy course requirement.

Note J: LCC 480 Senior Seminar meets both CAP and major requirements

* The LAC curriculum includes a scaffolded sequence of courses, intentionally designed to develop strong writing and communication skills highly valued by employers. In addition, 300 and 400 level courses are generally expected to present material at a different level from 100 and 200 level courses (e.g., more in-depth, more specialized, etc.). As a result, the articulation from HUS to SBS works best for students transferring in with approximately 60 credits. However LAC advisors understand that many students have taken additional courses prior to transferring, and will work with each student to best apply any additional credits. For more information, check the CMCC to USM transfer equivalency list and/or consult with USM'LAC's Students Success Center. Also note that the Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) process may be used to earn SBS elective credits; this can be done with or without registering for the SBS 323 Portfolio Development course.
