LIFT
New Work By Andrea Sulzer
September 4-October 17

Visiting Artists smudge studio
October 19
smudge is a Brooklyn-based collaboration between Jamie Kruse, an artist, designer and independent scholar, and Elizabeth Ellsworth, an artist and Professor of Media Studies at the New School, New York.

Visiting Artist Ahmed Alsoudani
November 2
Alsoudani fled to the United States as an Iraqi political refugee and arrived in Portland, Maine over fifteen years ago. He later graduated from Maine College of Art and Yale School of Art. His paintings, beautifully conveying the horrors of war, are now collected around the world. Alsoudani is a leading artist represented by the prestigious Haunch of Venison gallery in London and New York City.

AREA GALLERY, PORTLAND

Zuihitsu
October 24-December 9

smudge studio considers Portland's shoreline in Zuihitsu, an exhibition that addresses the landscape as event—as a continuous streaming of forces, configurations, and undoings. Smudge's landscape-based workshop with students will also be on view.

LECTURE SERIES IN THE VISUAL ARTS, GORHAM

Held on Fridays at 1 PM, Burnham Lounge, Robie Andrews Building

Visiting Artist Andrea Sulzer
October 5
Sulzer lives in Brunswick, Maine and has shown extensively around the state as well as New York City, Germany, Scotland, Japan, the UK and China and is the recipient of several grants, commissions, and artist residencies.
