

Curriculum Map Example - Mapping Student Learning Outcomes in Required Courses

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (I = Introduce; D = Developing; M = Mastering)	REQUIRED COURSES
	101	102	201	220	250	301	302	303	401	402	435	490
Properly documents references and citations in APA style.						I	I	I	D		M (A)	M
Demonstrates oral presentation skills appropriate to the field of social sciences.					I	M (A)			D		M (A)	M
Demonstrate knowledge of the historical context of the field of social sciences	I	I	D								D
Demonstrate knowledge of the biological bases of behavior and development.		I			D	D	M (A)
Outline the major ideas behind the individual differences perspective.	I	I	D		D
Distinguish between major statistical tests and be able to choose appropriate tests for specific data sets.	I									D		M (A)
Selects methodology appropriate to a particular research question generated by the student.						I			D			M (A)
Demonstrates an understanding of the ethical principles of social research as established by the APA.	I			D					D			M (A)
Evaluates real world examples in terms of course content and knowledge, applying critical thinking skills.	I	I	D	D	D	D	D	D	M (A)			M

(A)=assessed using course embedded projects and annually evaluated by all program faculty, results used for program improvement.