I. OVERVIEW OF THE COURSE

This three semester (9 credit hour) course serves as the Capstone experience in the Educational Leadership Program for aspiring curriculum coordinators. The internship is designed to immerse the student in the everyday tasks of the curriculum coordinator, providing an opportunity for the student to actually apply the skills and knowledge gained throughout the Educational Leadership program. The early focus of the course is on the internship in a school/district setting designed jointly by the student, the internship supervisor and a curriculum coordinator. During the internship students maintain a journal, develop a leadership platform (portfolio), conduct an investigation into school finances, complete a study of community demographics and formulate a leadership project based on an issue of importance to the school/district. Each student is required to produce a written report on the leadership project and to present it at the conclusion of the course.

After an organizational meeting in the spring, students will begin their internship experiences in the summer semester and will continue to participate in internship activities, through the year. We will meet as a group to share experiences, problem solve specific issues members of the group encounter, and participate in special activities designed by the instructors. We will also establish technology procedures to stay in touch.

III. ACTIVITIES

There will be six primary projects during the three semesters:

1. Internship Journal

Students will be expected to keep daily/weekly reflective writings of the internship activities covering at least 240 hours of administrative experiences. All journal entries are to be recorded around the six standards.

The journal serves several purposes. One is simply to record the activities of your internship. As you attend meetings, engage in discussions or participate in activities, it provides a way for you to document your experiences and to reflect on them with regard to the ISLLC standards. Another purpose is to provide you with an opportunity to reflect on your observations of curriculum coordinators or to reflect on your activities when serving in a leadership capacity. What have you learned from these experiences? Another purpose in keeping a journal is to develop a database. This database will assist in writing the mid-term and final assessment.

The instructors will make three field visits/consultations to each internship site and be available to interns and mentors during the course of the internship experience.

2. School Board Meeting Review (See Appendix)

3. Community Monograph (See Appendix)

Each student is expected to develop a statistical and narrative profile of the town and school system (see appendix for specific guidelines) where you will be interning. The town and school district should overlap.

4. Finance Project (See Appendix)

5. Leadership Platform

Each student will be expected to develop a leadership platform consisting of:

a. A statement of philosophy of education (“What are the major tenets of my educational philosophy?”) 1000 words

b. A statement of leadership philosophy (“What is my concept of an effective educational leader?”) An explanation of ways in which the student will actualize her/his concept of educational leadership once s/he is in a leadership role (“What will I need to do to be this kind of educational leader?”) 1000 words

c. A “best practices” topics response, in which the student catalogs practices, procedures and concepts that s/he considers the best way to handle several of the management tasks of the curriculum coordinator. Students are expected to write a response (minimum 500 words) to each of the topics below, utilizing knowledge gained from graduate classes, interviews with administrators, readings from the field and personal experiences. Students may attach documents to support their positions.

1) Special Education

Describe your administrative beliefs and practices regarding the delivery of services to students with special needs in your district setting. Discuss the roles of the building administrator, curriculum coordinator, special education director, special education and regular education teachers in both RTI and Special Education efforts.
2) Tracking
Despite the questions whether tracking enhances academic achievement and equity in the schools, the practice of educational tracking or the separation of students by perceived ability and curricula continues to pervade American education. Write a letter to the School Board describing your position on this issue and how you would implement your philosophy in your school.

3) Weighting and leveling of classes
Some high schools assign weighted grades to courses that they deem more rigorous and challenging than others. Write a letter to the faculty explaining your position.

4) Standards-Based Grading
The way in which some school districts across the country are reporting student progress toward mastery of academic standards to parents is changing. Briefly state your position on the use of standards-based report cards giving examples of benefits/issues.

5) Assessing Student Learning, Principal and Staff Performance
How we assess the degree to which students meet standards, and teachers and principals are held accountable for such is complex and controversial. State what you believe to be the most effective ways to do this.

6) Mobilizing Community Resources
Write a letter to the Chamber of Commerce describing how you would collaborate with community agencies to support student achievement, solve school/district problems and achieve school/district goals.

7) Technology
Describe your plan to use technology to enhance teaching and learning in your setting. Also, describe your plan to utilize social media to communicate with various stakeholder groups.

8) Professional Development Practices
Write a well-conceived, context appropriate professional development plan for staff to submit to your superintendent. Include the process you would utilize to develop and implement this plan.

9) Educational Policy Development
Briefly describe the role of the Curriculum Director in influencing educational policy at the local, state, and national levels. Discuss any specific venues or groups or associations you would utilize. Write a letter to a legislator in which you advocate action to improve conditions for education in your area (250-500 words).
10) New Staff Orientation/Mentoring Programs
Write a letter to new staff describing your district’s orientation and mentoring program. Be sure to discuss delivery models and implementation.

d. A current resume
e. Write a letter of application in which you introduce yourself as a candidate for an administrative position.

6. Leadership Project

Each student will be expected to consult with his/her mentoring administrator and together identify an educational issue of importance in the school/district. The process in which each intern will engage includes:

a. Identification of the Issue (2-3 pp.)
   First, the issue you choose to explore must be important – to you, your mentor and the school/district. In most cases, the project will be the one that has been identified by the school as an issue of educational importance that needs time and attention to be addressed. In most cases, it is a new initiative with several possible options for action. For example, an unusually high number of students in the ninth-grade may be failing one or more subjects. The critical factor in the selection of the issue is that it must be of importance to your mentor and provide you with an optimum learning experience.

b. Historical Context of the Issue (2-3 pp.)
   In this section, you examine what has happened in the past surrounding this issue. Have there been earlier attempts to deal with the issue and what have been the results of such efforts? Are there any current political/cultural concerns that impact the success of this project? What is the school/district commitment to the issue in terms of educational/financial support? How has this recently become an issue that needs attention?

c. Resource Review (3-5 pp.)
   A resource review summarizes, interprets, and evaluates existing “literature” in order to establish current knowledge of your topic. In your situation, it provides an overview of published research on a topic plus any anecdotal information, case studies, or observations. You are probably not the first person to be addressing your issue and you can learn from others successes/challenges. You can examine the topic regionally as well as nationally. You are also encouraged to network with practitioners and classmates for their craft knowledge and suggestions about the issues that you are addressing.
d. Formulation of a strategy and plan to address the issue (3-5 pp.)
After you have completed your resource review and examined possible courses of action, it is time to select the strategy (or strategies). Given what you know about options available, what strategies do you think have the best chances of success given the historical context of your district and political/cultural forces in play? Describe that strategy and implementation and evaluation plans. What specific actions will need to occur? In what sequence? Who will be responsible for the successful completion of each step? By when will it be completed?

e. Examination of what you have learned (2-3 pp.)
A primary objective of the leadership project is to provide you with an opportunity to learn from the experience of leading a change initiative. It does not really matter if the project succeeds for you to be successful. It is more important to understand what you learned, so you can apply that knowledge to future situations. Reflect on what went well, what you would do differently, issues that would need to be addressed if you were to replicate the process and what you learned about yourself as a leader.

Students will present their final projects at the Annual Leadership Symposium in the spring.

IV. PREREQUISITE

Students must have completed most of the required courses in the Educational Administration program and have permission of the instructor.

V. THE MENTORING ADMINISTRATOR

The mentoring administrator will be the administrator with whom the intern will work during the year. In negotiating the internship it is imperative that the intern gain a commitment from the mentoring administrator to design an array of field experiences and, at minimum, to supervise the intern’s work throughout the course. Ideally, the supervisor will agree not only to supervise the internship, but also to work with the intern throughout the year to assist her/him in the projects that are part of the course. The mentor must be currently certified and working in the position the student is interning. The mentor will assist in certifying that the intern has met the ISLLC standards.

VI. SITE VISITS

The university instructors will schedule three site visits/consultations with the intern and the mentoring administrator. At this time, action plans will be discussed and reviewed. Specific concerns about the internship experience can be dealt with at this time. At the final meeting in the spring, the mentor and University instructor will certify that the intern has met the ISLLC standards.
VII. EVALUATION

Grading will be on a pass-fail basis. In order to receive a grade of “pass,” students must complete all projects assigned at a level which meets the standards of the Educational Leadership faculty.

VIII. CLASS MEETINGS AND ATTENDANCE

It is assumed that students will attend the scheduled classes. Frequent or unexplained absences by a student may become a grading issue.

IX. STORM CANCELLATION

The instructor will explain the storm policy as it is different from the regular USM policy.

X. SUPPORT FOR STUDENTS

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, please make an appointment with Jody or Tom as soon as possible.

At any point in the semester, if you encounter difficulty with the course or feel you could be performing at a higher level, consult with Jody or Tom. Students experience difficulty in courses for a variety of reasons. For problems with writing skills or time management, make an appointment to see a student tutor at the Learning Center, Luther Bonney, 2nd floor (780-4228). Help is also available through the Counseling Center, 106 Payson Smith (780-4050) and the Office of Academic Support for Students with Disabilities, Luther Bonney, 2nd floor (780-4706). The USM TTY number is: 780-4395.

Writing the Community/School District Pamphlet

Each student is expected to develop a pamphlet that is statistical and narrative profile of the town and school system where they are doing their internship. This pamphlet should contain the information listed below.

The town and the school district should overlap. This is obvious in municipal school districts, but less so in school administrative districts, unions, or RSU’s. In the case where SAD’s or RSU’s consist of several towns, use the largest town in the district as the statistical source for your profile of the community (income and housing figures, etc.) You may be able to fill in anecdotal information about the other district communities, but it would be time-prohibitive and too lengthy a report to complete statistics on each town.

The information needed for the pamphlet is public. Some of it is easily accessible from public libraries. More and more of this information is now available on the internet. Information is also available in files in town halls, regional planning offices, superintendent of schools’ offices, and state agencies. For access to these latter files, it is usually helpful to schedule a time to meet with a clerk or an administrative official who can retrieve the information you need. This data collection process can be time consuming, so be sure you plan ahead to avoid last minute scrambling.
Data to Collect for Community/School District Pamphlet

1. Community
   - Boundaries, size, transportation, topography, historical development, type of community, economic base, etc.
   - Per capita income (or some other measure of “wealth”) as compared to state average (most recent year available)
   - Housing: percentage of rental units and owner-occupied dwellings; zoning, etc.

2. Demographics
   - Income levels: median household income, percentage below the poverty level.
   - Social characteristics (blue collar, bedroom, agricultural/rural, etc.)
   - Breakdown of population into age groups.
   - Educational attainment of population

3. Schools
   - Percent of state subsidy – current data
   - Elementary per pupil expenditures compared to state average
   - Secondary per pupil expenditures compared to state average
   - School organization (how many schools, how divided by grades)
   - Active parent-school groups
   - Drop-out rates for last five years
   - Graduation rate for last five years
   - Number of students receiving free or reduced lunches
   - Number of ELL students
   - Number of middle, elementary and high school principals in last ten years.
   - Number of superintendents in last ten years.
   - First step on teachers’ salary scale
   - Highest step on teachers’ salary scale

4. Government
   - Type of municipal government
   - Type of school district (single municipality, SAD, union, CSD, RSU’s)
   - Size of school board and composition
   - Tenure of present superintendent of schools (career or place oriented?)
   - Tenure of present town manager (or equivalent official) (career or place oriented?)
   - Mil rate

5. Politics / Social Orientation
   - Recent “hot” issues in the community
   - What groups/individuals hold political power?
   - What strategies do school leaders/advocates need to use to secure educational support and resources?
   - *Information with an asterisk should not appear on the pamphlet but rather be submitted as an appendix.
