

Independent Study in GIS (GEO 438/638)

Application Form

Geography-Anthropology Program

The Independent Study in GIS (GEO 438/638) allows students to work closely with a faculty member in developing a specialized program of study focused on some aspect of applied or theoretical GIS or remote sensing. This provides an opportunity for a student to explore an area of GIS or remote sensing in which they have a particular interest or aptitude falling outside the scope of the regular GIS curriculum.
