Come Explore New Dimensions in Life
A dynamic approach to learning in history, science, the arts, and current events

Tuesdays  |  September 24–November 12  |  9:30–11:30 a.m.
SAGE is an eight-week lecture series, held each fall and spring, exploring new dimensions in the arts, sciences, history, culture, business, recreation, and current events. Lectures are presented by experts in their fields and are held in Hannaford Hall, in the Abromson Community Education Center on USM’s Portland Campus.

September 24 | Irwin Gutz, MPBN Producer/Anchor, Amateur Astronomer often at Southport Public Library

Everything We Learned About the Solar System Was Wrong
Irwin explains how registration has spawned some long-held beliefs and re-energized the search for life, right in our cosmic back yard.

October 1 | Libby Buchof, Executive Director of the Other Map Library and Smith Center for Cartographic Education and Professor of History, USM

Visualizing Maine’s History: Postcards, Photographs, Maps and Film at the Turn-of-the-Century
Learn the role of visual materials in Maine’s rich history and culture during the late-19th and early-20th centuries.

October 8 | Heather Davis, LearningWorks, Executive Director

Learning Works: Student Success Through Non-Traditional Means
Discover how LearningWorks empowers students whose academic needs are not met by traditional educational systems.

October 15 | Nathaniel Wheeldown, Bowdoin College, Bass Professor of Natural Sciences, Biology, Emeritus

How to Be a Naturalist in the Digital Age
Being mindful and appreciative of the knowledge in the world today.

October 22 | Tilly Lackey, Maine Historical Society, Curator

Holding Up the Sky: Wabanaki People, Culture, History, and Art
Explore 13,000 years of Wabanaki residence in Maine through 17th century treaties, historic items, and contemporary artworks.

October 29 | Allison Boys & Zach Hudson, ACLU Maine, Executive Director & Legal Director

Liberty & Justice For All: Expanding the Promise of the Constitution
Learn how Maine’s ACLU is working in the courts, the legislature, and our communities to build a more perfect nation for the generations to come.

November 5 | Jeff Talong, City of Portland, City Arborist/Forestry & Horticulture Manager

Keeping Portland the Forest City
From our historiclivestock trees to our new plantings, learn how Portland has planned and cared for our trees, parks, and green spaces.

November 12 | Alix Nor Film, Author
Author of Call Me American
Be heartened and amazed as Abdi tells how he beat 600-1 odds to obtain a green card to enter the USA.

Our new website allows you to post the lecture schedule on a bulletin board or refrigerator door!
