This course will examine arts-based teaching, teaching for creativity, and inclusive learning practices as key components of artistic pedagogy and meaningful assessment in art and music. Students’ creative learning will be addressed through a series of hands-on projects which will feature artistic and transmodal approaches to assessment.