

Suggested Courses in Political Science for Environmental Science and Policy majors doing a Political Science minor

October 2014

To better complement the preparation in the Environmental Science and Policy major, students interested in a Political Science minor are encouraged to take the following courses to satisfy the requirements for the minor:

1) Select three courses among the following classes:

POS 101 Introduction to American Government

POS 104 Introduction to International Relations

POS 203 Introduction to Political Science Research

POS 205 Introduction to Comparative Politics

ESP 220 Introduction to Environmental Policy

AND

2) Select three courses among the ones listed below, with at least two classes at the 300 level or higher:

POS 102 People and Politics

POS 120 Government and Politics of Maine

POS 280 Issues Before the United Nations

POS 335 European Politics

POS 340 The Politics of Developing Nations

POS 361 Public Administration

POS 380 Topics (Selected topics on the environment)

POS 405 The European Union

POS 406 Research in the European Union (2- week Study Abroad summer course)

POS 445 MeMUNC Conference Planners

POS 446 Global Educators

To complete the Political Science minor students will need to take 6 courses in total, corresponding to 18 credits. For any questions and/or advising information, please contact Prof. Francesca Vassallo:

francesca.vassallo@maine.edu

To declare the minor, fill out this form:

<http://usm.maine.edu/sites/default/files/Office%20of%20the%20Registrar/declaration%20of%20minor.pdf>