Purpose of Cross-Registration:

Cross-registration benefits students at Alliance member schools by expanding the number and kinds of courses available to them. Cross-registration supplements the course offerings at each member school, so that students may take courses that would not otherwise be available to them.

Eligibility:

Home Institution

- The student must meet the definition of “matriculated student” at the Home institution (including the cross-registered course).
- Students on formal exchange programs are considered matriculated if they meet the matriculation requirements of their Home institution.
- Be in good academic standing.
- Have approval of appropriate academic authorities at the Home institution.
- Not be a first-semester freshman.
- Meet all other requirements established by the Home institution.

Host Institution

- The student must follow Alliance procedures for cross-registration.
- Enrollment is on a space-available basis.
- The student must meet course prerequisites (or equivalents) set by the Host school.
- The student must gain approval from the appropriate academic authorities, if required by the Host institution.

Courses covered:

All courses are eligible with the following exceptions:

- Non-Credit courses and non-degree program courses.
- Graduate courses.
- Any course offered outside the normal academic year – e.g., summer, inter-session.

Response:

- After receiving your cross registration form(s), your home institution’s registrar will process your application and forward it to the host institution for approval.
- In most cases, your home institution’s registrar will notify you once the host institution processes your application. However, please check with your home institution registrar to confirm response method.

Tuition and Fees:

- Tuition is paid to your home institution.
- Course fees (for lab and/or materials) are paid to the host institution.
- Host institution service fees may be applicable. Consult with your host institution for further details.

Dropping or Withdrawing from a course:

You may drop or withdraw from a course based on the policy and procedures of your home institution. Consult with your home institution’s registrar.

Other Limits:

- Each student is limited to three courses per year and a total of five courses over the period of the student’s undergraduate studies.

Calendar Reminders:

- There are academic calendar differences among the GPACU schools.
- Students are expected to meet host institution calendar expectations (i.e. holidays and vacation periods may differ but students are expected to be in class at the host institution even if the home institution is not in session).
- Calendar differences may result in a wait of processing grades from the host institution. This may result in a delay in verifying the completion of the graduation requirements. Consult with your home institution’s registrar about this.
