□ Apply for financial support (if applicable)

Students may submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) beginning October 1st for the following academic year to apply for Federal Student Aid. Once admitted, you can view your Federal Direct Loan offer on MaineStreet.

You can apply for USM scholarships through the Scholarship portal. There are also a wide range of Graduate Assistantships available on the Office of Graduate Studies website, some of which include tuition assistance. Students can apply for all graduate assistantships online. Students must have completed a FAFSA, be matriculated in a graduate program, enrolled in a minimum of six graduate credits per semester and maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA in order to maintain eligibility for OGS Scholarships, and graduate assistantships. However, in order to receive financial support by way financial aid, students must be registered for at least 3 credits for each semester they wish to receive assistance.
