MINIMUM NUMBER OF HOURS: USM, School of Business students, are required to complete a minimum of 140 hours (400 hours for Sport Management majors) while enrolled in an internship.

ELIGIBILITY: At the time of completing an internship, an undergraduate student needs to have completed 54 credit hours. Accounting and finance interns must have a minimum 2.5 GPA; marketing/insurance/general business interns must have a minimum 2.33 GPA; and graduate students must have a minimum 3.0 GPA. Graduate students must also have completed their foundation courses. Employers can require a higher GPA (3.0 is typically the highest) for applicants.

GRADING/CREDITS: Internships are pass/fail and students earn three credit hours for an internship. Sport Management majors intern six credit hours and are given a letter grade for their internship experience.

OF INTERNSHIPS FOR CREDIT: Undergraduate students can complete two internships within their degree but the internships have to be different in responsibilities/tasks. Graduate students can complete one internship for credit within their degree. Sport mgt. majors can earn six credits toward their degree requirements.

COMPENSATION: Internships can be paid or unpaid but please note fewer students apply to unpaid internships.

GUIDELINES: The internship should meet the needs of the employer. It can be broad in nature (exposure to many different departments) or it can be department specific (i.e. Marketing/Finance/Insurance/Accounting). The more you can have the student do and observe within the constraints of his or her knowledge base the better.

APPROVAL & REGISTRATION: The School of Business internship has to be approved for credit by a faculty member. The School of Business wants to see that the student will be learning something new* by completing the internship. Employers should identify what the student will be doing and what the student will be learning by completing the internship.

(*A new learning experience can be an internship; a new job; or a new project on a current job.)

POSTING: Employers or the SB Coordinator of Career Services & Internships can post internships or jobs on USM’s recruiting site, usm.experience.com. An employer user guide can be found at http://usm.maine.edu/sb/forms/eR_Employer_Guide-1.pdf. Employers should notify the coordinator of postings so that she can drive students to positions by contacting faculty members and students.

FACULTY CONTACT: Typically, faculty will make one on site visit to the employer during the course of the internship.

FORMS: Employers, as well as, students, faculty sponsors, and academic advisors must sign an internship approval form for the student to register for the internship. Students also are required to create a learning contract that has to be approved by the faculty sponsor.

EVALUATION: Each employer, student, and faculty sponsor involved in an internship is required to complete an evaluation at the end of the internship. Forms are mailed by the SB Coordinator of Career Services & Internships.

QUESTIONS: Contact Melissa L. Burns, Coord. of Career Services & Internships. Contact info. listed above.
Path to Internships – What You Need to Know

Thank you for your interest in the University of Southern Maine, School of Business Internship Program. This guidebook has been designed to assist you with our program. The object is to cover many of the major points needed to implement a program of your own.

As an employer it is imperative that you gain internal support for establishing an internship program. Sometimes this can be as simple as discussing the concept with your staff. In larger organizations internal support can be best when you start at the top. When company employees know that there is support from the top down for an internship program it helps them to feel more comfortable including students as part of the team. Also, it shows current employees that there is full-fledged support of the student intern, their role and the value of this experience.

Determine Your Need

A student intern is not a volunteer, nor a resident expert, nor a go-fer. Your need will give the college student the chance to use their education in a real world setting while making a solid positive contribution to your organization. Although student interns may bring special skills, new knowledge and fresh ideas to an organization it is not appropriate for an organization to expect the student to be the resident expert.

Remember: Students accepting a for credit internship assignment must complete a minimum of 140 hours (or 400 for Sport Mgt. majors) in their internship experience. Internships are flexible and can start and stop any time. It's great when assignments directly correspond to our semesters; however, we realize business needs aren't necessarily based on our schedule. However, most students seek internships based on the semester schedule.

Contact the Internship Coordinator at the School of Business – University of Southern Maine

Should you find that a student intern is just what you need, or if you need a few questions answered, please contact our internship coordinator, Melissa Burns. The internship coordinator can be reached through the School of Business Office by calling (207) 780-4020 during normal university office hours (8am-4:30pm).

Write a Job Description

One of the most important things you'll need to do is to write an internship job description. This description will be used to advertise your available internship. Make sure it describes the roles and responsibilities of the intern; any special events that the intern will attend (training, workshops, job shadowing, meetings etc.); and the learning that will take place as part of this internship experience. If there are special qualities/skills, education, GPA, or experience that the intern needs you'll need to describe them here. Please note you can require or desire a certain major or GPA. Required means the students must meet this requirement to apply and desired means students that do not meet this requirement would be able to apply.

Interview a Student

We prefer that students who have been attracted by your internship description submit a resume (and any other documents, such as cover letter or unofficial transcript) through our electronic internship/job website, usm.experience.com. Although on a rare occasion a student will submit materials directly to the company. Once you receive his/her information we ask that you contact the student directly within ten days to let them know you are reviewing their application materials. Please remember that you are hiring a student intern not an employee. Please consider a student’s potential than their current level of familiarity with your particular product or service. If you would like to interview on campus, please contact the Coordinator of Career Services and Internships.

Contact with Faculty Sponsor

Once you have interviewed and selected your student intern the academic process begins. A member of our faculty works with the student by reviewing and approving their internship; their learning contract; and is contact with the student throughout the course of the internship experience. This faculty sponsor will also be in contact with the employer during the program. Ordinarily, an onsite visitation/evaluation will be done. Circumstances may necessitate other means of communication.
Agree to a Learning Contract with Student Intern

The student intern is responsible for developing the learning contract. As his or her supervisor, you are asked to sign the contract acknowledging your agreement with the tasks to be completed as agreed upon by you, the student, and the student’s faculty sponsor. The learning contract sets the student’s goals for the internship experience. It outlines what the student intends to accomplish/learn during their internship and how that learning will be evaluated. A good plan will help the student plan ahead and maximize the benefits of the program.

Training/Supervising and Mentoring

Training is a priority for everyone. One of the most overlooked aspects of training is an organizational introduction. Introducing the student intern to key personnel and the people they will be working with is extremely important. Also, showing the intern the location of the photocopier, rest rooms, coffee machines and fax machine is important.

Communication

As with any employee, knowing when and when not to communicate is extremely valuable. Remember, this is a learning experience for the student. They are going to have questions. It’s much more important that they ask the question than not. Please support them in that. Some faculty members will require the student to submit a memorandum to their faculty sponsor, site supervisor (you) and the internship coordinator at the mid-term mark of their internship. The memorandum will outline where the student feels their strengths are and where they need help. It will point out what’s going right and what’s going wrong in their perspective of the internship.

It gives the internship experience the opportunity to continue running on the right track or to get back on it. It's an opportunity that we hope you'll embrace and take advantage of.

Evaluations/Mid-term Memorandum

We have three evaluation forms that are used in this process. One is an employer evaluation form that goes to the employer to evaluate the student's performance. The second evaluation form goes to the student to evaluate the internship experience. The third evaluation form goes to the faculty sponsor to evaluate the overall program. If your organization has an established written evaluation method used for employees, you may attach your organization’s form to the USM evaluation form that we will send you. A copy of the employer evaluation is included in this handbook. This formal evaluation gives the student an opportunity to learn and grow from the internship experience and for this program to learn and grow as well.

The mid-term memorandum (assigned by some faculty sponsors) is a feedback device used by the student to address the work accomplished during the first part of the internship; describe any problems encountered; complete a self-assessment of their performance; and set goals for the remainder of the internship. It is addressed to the employer, with copies going to the faculty sponsor and internship coordinator.

Keep in Mind

Unemployment Compensation -- School of Business interns are not entitled to unemployment compensation after completion of an internship experience for credit because the work experience is part of a USM approved educational program. In some cases the student will be continuing to take classes at USM, or will be returning to classes, so may be unavailable for work once the internship experience is over.

Worker’s Compensation -- Participating employer organizations are responsible for Workers Compensation for all employees, including paid and/or unpaid interns, and should check with their insurance provider to obtain more information.

Employee Benefits and Insurance -- Internship students who are not employed by the company they intern with are ineligible for employee benefit packages from participating employers.
Why Consider a Student Intern?

1. You gain access to highly motivated and skilled workers
2. Recruitment for long or short-term staff
3. Benefits of association with the learning institution
4. Inexpensive source of competent assistance

Things to think about prior to hiring a student intern

1. What is the need within the organization?
2. Who else needs to agree with this concept?
3. What duties or projects will the students have? Are they appropriate for a college student? Do you think they are worthy of college credit?
4. What level of experience or what type of education best fits the position to be filled?
5. What training is needed? Who will train and act as the site supervisor for the student? Do they have the skills, interest and time?
6. What is the time commitment for this position? (Student interns must work a minimum of 140 hours)
7. Where will the students work?
8. What is the required or desired major? Required or desired GPA? (Required means the student must meet this major or GPA to apply. Desired means students with other majors/GPA’s can apply.
9. What will the student learn by completing this internship?

Sample Internship Descriptions

Accounting

The responsibilities associated with the tax intern position include the preparation of both federal and state tax returns for individuals, corporations, partnerships, and other business entities. The tasks required in the process of tax preparation include gathering the necessary financial information; inputting the information into a tax return software program; and tax rules and regulations research. The intern will receive hands on practical experience in a public accounting firm will become proficient in the tax preparation software used by the firm. Applicant needs a minimum of a 2.5 GPA. Student must be an accounting major (undergraduate or graduate) or accounting certificate student. Please submit your resume and unofficial transcript through usm.experience.com.

Sales & Management

The intern will participate in the sales/management area. The main divisions of the business the intern will be exposed to are: customer service, business operations, and sales. The intern will job shadow the assistant manager. The intern will learn “sell up” techniques and be trained in customer service techniques. The intern will spend two days in training at the corporate office. The student needs to be proficient in MS Word, Excel and PowerPoint. Applicant needs to be a School of Business major with a 3.0 GPA. Pay depends on experience. The internship will be 10-15 hours a week and is flexible around the student’s schedule. Hours will be during normal business hours. Please submit your resume and resume through usm.experience.com.

Human Resources

The intern will assist the Director of Human Resources. The intern will work on tasks and projects in all areas of HR and will research recruitment practices, selection techniques, and processes for validating recruitment and selection. The intern will then make recommendations for the library's recruitment, selection, and validation practices. The intern will also review the Library's HR Information Systems (HRIS) data base, update its information on competitive compensation and benefits packages, and recommend other changes to the database. The intern will participate in the financial planning for the HR department and be actively involved in the capital budget decision making process. Finally, the intern will assist the director in identifying topics to be used in training and development programs. Prefer Business majors but will consider other majors. Prefer a 2.8 GPA but not required. Please submit your resume through usm.experience.com.

Marketing

This paid internship is designed to provide a student with a broad scope of learning within marketing and certain aspects of the sales function of a start-up company. Marketing Activities include further developing the marketing messages used in the business; updating marketing brochures; designing and implementing our Facebook page and/or the Company’s web site; develop customer “lead lists” by researching target customer information; sending email information (brochures) to target customers; conducting initial phone contact with target customer with goal of arranging the physical sales call; participating in sales calls including formulating the service agreements; and developing a sales-cycle pipeline where potential customer sites are tracked through a multi-stage process from the initial call to signing contract. Need to be a School of Business major with a required 3.0 GPA. Please submit your resume and cover letter through usm.experience.com.
Employer/Site Supervisor Agreement

- Provide the internship coordinator with a written job description of the available position
- Either post internship on usm.experience.com or ask the internship coordinator for assistance with posting
- Assure that student interns will not be held financially accountable for training, materials, and/or other items required to perform the duties of this internship.
- Notify the internship coordinator when business students are employed by your organization
- Provide an academically qualified, professional level work experience related to the student's major
- Provide Workers Compensation Insurance for all paid student interns
- Be clear about pay and pay periods upon hiring of the student
- Include students in the company's general liability insurance policy while working for your organization
- Provide an orientation to the worksite; introduce the intern to other staff members
- Evaluate the student's performance at the end of the internship and submit the USM evaluation to the internship coordinator

The internship coordinator will:

- Notify qualified candidates about your job opportunities through a student email distribution list, bulletin board posting, verbal communication, and faculty email distribution list
- Assist students in developing and submitting cover letters/resumes for internship opportunities
- Coordinate communication as needed between the employer, student and faculty sponsor
- Ensure that evaluations are sent to students, site supervisors and faculty sponsors
- Post internships if needed on usm.experience.com

Four Steps for successfully supervising a student intern (A review):

1) When you hire the student explain:
   a) Equipment provided by the company
   b) Equipment provided by the student
   c) Standards for appearance
   d) Salary, benefits, overtime pay
   e) Starting date and ending date
   f) Use of car (if applicable)

2) When the student begins work:
   a) Introduce the student to office personnel, including key players
   b) Identify person (site supervisor) who will assign work and supervise
   c) Explain the chain of command
   d) Identify where to go if there is a problem
   e) Explain any office policies
   f) Include the student in applicable department activities

3) At the beginning of each week:
   a) Review the previous internship work with the student
   b) Assign meaningful and challenging work
   c) Tell the student what is needed, why it's needed, when and the format expected
   d) Explain how the student's work will be evaluated

4) Schedule several intermediate reviews throughout the internship:
   a) Monitor the student's general performance
   b) Measure progress toward the learning contract
   c) Make adjustments as needed

Revised 1/07/2009
Student Instructions for Creating an Internship Learning Contract

Each student enrolled in a School of Business Internship negotiates a learning contract with a faculty sponsor. The learning contract outlines what you intend to accomplish on your internship, and how this will be evaluated. Think of the learning contract as a tool for generating shared expectations between you and your faculty sponsor. It is also a way to help you plan your internship and maximize your benefit from it. Given that an internship is intended to be a self-directed learning experience, the student is responsible for developing the learning contract.

Draft a learning contract using the format outlined below. Submit the first draft of your learning contract to your faculty sponsor for approval before beginning the internship. Using feedback from your faculty sponsor revise the learning contract until it is approved. The student is encouraged to discuss the development of the contract with your employer and to provide them with a copy of the final version.

PART I: DESCRIPTION OF THE WORK EXPERIENCE [to be negotiated with employer]

A. Job Description. Obtain written objectives or a job description from your employer. Describe your role and responsibilities. Include a description of any meetings, trainings, job shadowing, workshops, and other related events that you may be attending.

B. Work Site Supervision Evaluation. Describe the supervision and assistance you will receive at the work site. How and when will your employer evaluate your work performance? Indicate if someone other than the supervisor listed on the internship approval form will evaluate your performance or if a form other than the one sent to the employer by the University is to be used, attach a copy.

PART II: DESCRIPTION OF THE LEARNING EXPERIENCE [developed by student and approved by faculty sponsor]

A. Learning Goals. What do you plan to learn during this experience? Goals may relate to:
   - knowledge you hope to acquire about the organization, business practices, or the functioning of organizations in general,
   - skills you hope to develop or apply, or
   - insight you hope to gain into your career direction, your strengths and weaknesses, and your ability to operate in professional settings.

PART III: DESCRIPTION OF LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND COURSE REQUIREMENTS [include all but Part D which is determined by the faculty sponsor]

What activities will help you obtain each of your learning goals? Activities may be assigned by the employer as part of the job, required by the faculty sponsor for the course, or included for your own development. All students are required to:

A. Progress on all of my learning goals will result from my on-the-internship (job) activities.

B. Meet with faculty sponsors periodically when needed to:
   - address student questions,
   - discuss the student’s job performance and internship experience,
   - discuss career opportunities and the student’s career direction, and
   - demonstrate accomplishment of the goals in the learning contract
C. Prepare a midterm progress report memorandum. The memo is to be directed and submitted to your employer, and copies given to your faculty sponsor and the internship coordinator. It should address the work accomplished during the period, problems encountered, a self-assessment of performance and the goals for the remainder of the internship. Ask your employer to meet with you to provide verbal feedback as well as written feedback that you can show your faculty sponsor. The latter can be brief, handwritten comments on your memo, or a separate memo, indicating the employer's agreement with your memo. An example memo is available on the School of Business Web site.

D. Academic Requirements. Submit a final paper/project and/or keep a journal (Your faculty sponsor will determine your academic requirements.)

The focus of this might be:

- A portfolio of the work you produced on-the-job and a reflective essay on that work.
- Reflection on the accomplishment of your learning goals.
- What insights did you gain about the field? What are your observations about organizations and professional roles and norms?
- How did the internship experience change your view of yourself and contribute to your professional development? What knowledge and skills were developed? What strengths and weaknesses were uncovered by the experience? How did you think, feel, and act in a professional setting, and how did others in that setting think, feel, and act toward you? What insights did you gain into your attitudes, values, and behaviors?
- How did the internship affect your academic or career plans?
- Reflect on your approach to problem resolution in organizations.
- How could you have benefited more from the internship experience?

E. Act professionally on the job as a representative of USM and the School of Business. I will assist my faculty sponsor in setting up at least one site visit.

F. Complete an evaluation of the internship experience.

- You will receive an official evaluation from the School of Business.
- The employer and the faculty sponsor also complete an evaluation.

G. (Optional) Students are encouraged to:

- Submit to the Coordinator of Career Services and Internships an updated resume that includes the internship position.
- If you need assistance updating your resume, see the Coordinator of Career Services and Internships.
MID-TERM PROGRESS REPORT MEMORANDUM

TO: Linda Jones, Director of Human Resources [Site Supervisor]
CC: Rick Grover, Faculty Sponsor [Faculty Sponsor]
    Melissa Burns [Internship Coordinator]
FROM: Richard J. Smith, Human Resources Intern
DATE: March 19, 2011
RE: Evaluation of Internship

During the first six weeks of my internship, I have accomplished the following:

* Researched recruitment and selection practices, and submitted report.
* Reviewed validation procedures, and recommended changes.
* Reviewed HRIS data base, and developed procedures for periodic HRIS review.
* Updated compensation and benefits information in HRIS.
* Assisted in the submission of a tentative budget to Finance department.

The completion of these projects has been a successful work and learning experience. I am pleased with my performance and feel I have been a valuable member of the HR team.

I also encountered a few problems. It was initially difficult for me to access the HRIS system because of my lack of experience with the data base. In addition, I learned a valuable lesson after the budgeting error that occurred when I misinterpreted last year’s fiscal data. In the future I will ask for clarification when I have doubts about my work. Lastly, I have learned the importance of having a clearly defined goal before research is conducted. If I had surveyed the staff to identify their informational needs before I began my research, I would have spent less time doing the research and my report would have better addressed staff needs.

Overall, I am on schedule in terms of completing projects. I am also meeting my learning goals, but I would like more conversations with staff to learn about HR career opportunities. The first six weeks of this internship have been a rewarding and positive experience for me.

I agree with Richard’s self-assessment.
We are extremely pleased with his performance.
Linda Jones

Payment option (select □): □ Stipend via payment □ Course release credit

I hereby request internship remuneration. I confirm that:
1) I have completed the faculty sponsor responsibilities listed below, and
2) Copies of the Internship Approval Form and Learning Contract are in the student’s file.

Faculty Sponsor Responsibilities (please check or initial):

☐ Ensure that the student's Learning Contract includes:
   1.) Description of Work Experience, Learning Objectives and Learning Experience/Academic Expectations
   2.) Description of Learning Experience/Academic Expectations includes a. Journal and/or final paper or project
      b. Progress report memorandum (optional)
      c. Resume (optional)

☐ Ensure that the student completed 140 hours at the internship site

☐ Employer/Site Supervisor contacted at the beginning and end of internship. Under normal circumstances, a person-to-person meeting takes place at least once.

☐ Periodic contact between student and faculty (min. of beginning, middle & end)

☐ Grade submitted to the registrar.

1.) Are there any reasons why we should or should not place interns at this site, «EmployerCo», located in «SiteCity», «SiteState» in the future?

2.) Additional comments (use the back if needed):

note: Evaluations are sent to the student, site supervisor and faculty sponsor prior to the end of the internship experience by the internship coordinator. The mailing date of the evaluations is based on the approximate ending date on the Internship Approval Form.

Fact Sheet #71: Internship Programs Under The Fair Labor Standards Act

This fact sheet provides general information to help determine whether interns must be paid the minimum wage and overtime under the Fair Labor Standards Act for the services that they provide to “for-profit” private sector employers.

Background
The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) defines the term “employ” very broadly as including to “suffer or permit to work.” Covered and non-exempt individuals who are “suffered or permitted” to work must be compensated under the law for the services they perform for an employer. Internships in the “for-profit” private sector will most often be viewed as employment, unless the test described below relating to trainees is met. Interns in the “for-profit” private sector who qualify as employees rather than trainees typically must be paid at least the minimum wage and overtime compensation for hours worked over forty in a workweek.

The Test For Unpaid Interns
There are some circumstances under which individuals who participate in “for-profit” private sector internships or training programs may do so without compensation. The Supreme Court has held that the term "suffer or permit to work" cannot be interpreted so as to make a person whose work serves only his or her own interest an employee of another who provides aid or instruction. This may apply to interns who receive training for their own educational benefit if the training meets certain criteria. The determination of whether an internship or training program meets this exclusion depends upon all of the facts and circumstances of each such program.

The following six criteria must be applied when making this determination:

1. The internship, even though it includes actual operation of the facilities of the employer, is similar to training which would be given in an educational environment;

2. The internship experience is for the benefit of the intern;

3. The intern does not displace regular employees, but works under close supervision of existing staff;

4. The employer that provides the training derives no immediate advantage from the activities of the intern; and on occasion its operations may actually be impeded;

5. The intern is not necessarily entitled to a job at the conclusion of the internship; and

6. The employer and the intern understand that the intern is not entitled to wages for the time spent in the internship.

If all of the factors listed above are met, an employment relationship does not exist under the FLSA, and the Act’s minimum wage and overtime provisions do not apply to the intern. This exclusion from the definition of employment is necessarily quite narrow because the FLSA’s definition of “employ” is very broad. Some of the most commonly discussed factors for “for-profit” private sector internship programs are considered below.
Similar To An Education Environment And The Primary Beneficiary Of The Activity
In general, the more an internship program is structured around a classroom or academic experience as opposed to the employer’s actual operations, the more likely the internship will be viewed as an extension of the individual’s educational experience (this often occurs where a college or university exercises oversight over the internship program and provides educational credit). The more the internship provides the individual with skills that can be used in multiple employment settings, as opposed to skills particular to one employer’s operation, the more likely the intern would be viewed as receiving training. Under these circumstances the intern does not perform the routine work of the business on a regular and recurring basis, and the business is not dependent upon the work of the intern. On the other hand, if the interns are engaged in the operations of the employer or are performing productive work (for example, filing, performing other clerical work, or assisting customers), then the fact that they may be receiving some benefits in the form of a new skill or improved work habits will not exclude them from the FLSA’s minimum wage and overtime requirements because the employer benefits from the interns’ work.

Displacement And Supervision Issues
If an employer uses interns as substitutes for regular workers or to augment its existing workforce during specific time periods, these interns should be paid at least the minimum wage and overtime compensation for hours worked over forty in a workweek. If the employer would have hired additional employees or required existing staff to work additional hours had the interns not performed the work, then the interns will be viewed as employees and entitled compensation under the FLSA. Conversely, if the employer is providing job shadowing opportunities that allow an intern to learn certain functions under the close and constant supervision of regular employees, but the intern performs no or minimal work, the activity is more likely to be viewed as a bona fide education experience. On the other hand, if the intern receives the same level of supervision as the employer’s regular workforce, this would suggest an employment relationship, rather than training.

Job Entitlement
The internship should be of a fixed duration, established prior to the outset of the internship. Further, unpaid internships generally should not be used by the employer as a trial period for individuals seeking employment at the conclusion of the internship period. If an intern is placed with the employer for a trial period with the expectation that he or she will then be hired on a permanent basis, that individual generally would be considered an employee under the FLSA.

The FLSA makes a special exception under certain circumstances for individuals who volunteer to perform services for a state or local government agency and for individuals who volunteer for humanitarian purposes for private non-profit food banks. WHD also recognizes an exception for individuals who volunteer their time, freely and without anticipation of compensation for religious, charitable, civic, or humanitarian purposes to non-profit organizations. Unpaid internships in the public sector and for non-profit charitable organizations, where the intern volunteers without expectation of compensation, are generally permissible. WHD is reviewing the need for additional guidance on internships in the public and non-profit sectors.
